CULINARY

THE LIQUID & FOOD SCENE

THE BREAKFAST CLUB “I don’t have to tell you I love you. I fed you pancakes.” When Kathleen Flinn wrote these words in her food and love memoir, “Burnt Toast Makes You Sing Good,” we could relate. There’s something about flapjacks, warm from the griddle, dotted with butter, dripping with maple syrup, that simply makes our hearts sing. And since we discovered the Denver-based Birch Benders Micro-Pancakery we’re definitely feeling the love. Sold in the baking aisle at grocery stores nationally, the all-natural, gourmet, just-add-water mixes include 10 varieties: Classic, Chocolate Chip, Six Grain Cinnamon, Gluten-Free, Paleo, Protein, Gingerbread Spice, Pumpkin Spice, Double Chocolate Peppermint and Sweet Potato (the latter is exclusive to Target). Our only question: Which flavor shall we eat first? birchbenders.com
